

National Lemonade Day at Autumn Place and Willow Creek

Young girls who are residents from Autumn Place and Willow Creek joined the Baton Rouge Chapter of 100 Black Women hosted a two-day affair for National Lemonade Day where the young ladies engaged professional, accomplished women to learn about business and practice entrepreneurship.

"This experience is extremely eye opening for many of the young ladies. At the end of the Lemonade Sale, everyone is involved in determining the profit. And what a treat! This year, the young ladies worked so very hard and sold 'a lot of product' enough so that each participant was able to make a $50 cash profit from the sale after covering all expenses. Imagine the excitement and the opportunity to bring to reality lessons learned on Friday and Saturday. This year, each participant left with a big smile on their faces as well as the volunteers. All participants and volunteers were already talking about next year's Lemonade Day."
